

ODEON IS PACKED AT GRAND RALLY

Scandinavians Hear Governor Spry, Senator Sutherland and James D. Murdoch.

WELFARE OF THE CITY SPEAKERS TELL HOW PREJUDICE IS INJURING BUSINESS.

More than a thousand men and women gathered at the Odeon hall on North Temple street last night at the Scandinavian Republican rally, making one of the most enthusiastic gatherings of the campaign. And from the manner in which they cheered James D. Murdoch, who was referred to as "our next mayor," there was little doubt left as to the political beliefs of the voters who packed the hall.

Absolute proof of the falsity of the claims of the Citizens-Democratic leaders that the Republican party has always refused to aid in a fusion movement was made by Governor William Spry in a stirring address for "peace in Utah." It was a masterful presentation of some of the issues of the present campaign. He referred to the election of Judge Bascom a Democrat; Mr. Clark, a Democrat, and R. P. Morris, a Democrat, all to the office of mayor, and he said that the Republican party elected through the aid of the Republican party.

There was never a dull time during the rally, which closed with the singing of "America," and then the young and old remained in the hall for a dance and refreshments. C. V. Anderson was chairman of the meeting, and seated near him on the center of the floor were Governor William Spry, United States Senator George Sutherland, State Senator W. G. Williams, A. L. Thomas, James D. Murdoch, L. P. Dahlquist, C. M. Nielsen and Axel Steele.

The Republican party and its candidates in the city election were eulogized in three tongues—English, Swedish and Norwegian. Applause was unstinted, but the distinct note of the evening was the work of the Scandinavian male chorus, under the direction of Professor John Pedersen, which sang several times during the evening.

Following Mr. Steele came C. M. Nielsen, who spoke in Norwegian, and then the history of the Scandinavian people in the early history of the United States and of their work in the development of the country up to the present time. He declared, coming down to the local city election, that if the good people of Salt Lake got out and did their duty there would be no doubt about the result, and the Republican ticket would be elected.

Governor Spry was then introduced and received enthusiastic applause when he stepped to the front. He said in part: "I am glad to be here tonight to say a good word for my friend, James D. Murdoch, and to meet so many good citizens of the state of Utah. I have always said that the Scandinavians are a progressive, prosperous people, and that they have done a great deal for the state. But they have shown their work, not alone in Utah, but in Nevada, Colorado, California, Idaho and any other place where they will be found to be the leading citizens, doing their share, or more than their share, in the development of the out-lands."

"And another feature about the Scandinavians is that you will generally find them in the Republican party. And right there they show their good judgment."

"We have a condition here of which you are all aware. It is the class or part of one class of people are always fighting the other, and it has done much injury to the state. It has kept capital away. The unsettled condition which confronts investors is most harmful to the state. A majority of the people are pretty near of the unanimous opinion that this is harmful, and that we must all work for the interest and advancement of this great state of ours. We may not have accomplished this object in the last few years, but the time is coming when we will be able to accomplish what we hope for. We must have peace in Utah, and all work together for the good of the state."

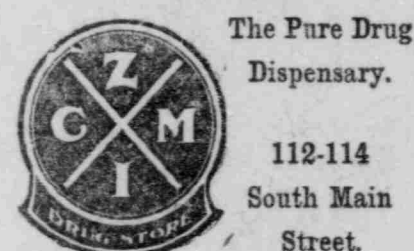

"Men may try to keep that day away, may throw up barriers which will make this condition slower in coming, may postpone the happy day by calumny and abuse. But it is coming as sure as we are here tonight. I want to see it all

Their Last Stand.

"I had hoped that it would have been accomplished before this time, but it is my firm belief that this is one of the last stands of our friends on the other side, who are doing much to injure Salt Lake. They see it coming on and are certain that it will not be long before their party must cease. The best of them want to get it settled and have us divide on good old party lines. I will make this one of the great efforts of my administration: To bring peace to Utah."

"I don't care what the claims of the American party are in regard to the improvements made since they have been in power. I tell you we have been losing money. If the Republican party had been in power we would have had miles of sidewalk, more miles of sewer, more miles of water mains, more paved streets. There is no power on earth which can or shall stay the progress of this city. But this fight is hurting the city and the state. If we could only lay aside the thoughts of strife and all work together, people would come from all other states and help build up what she, of right, should be."

"The claims of the fusion Democrats during this campaign have been that the Republican party had refused to bring about a combination. I wish to go on record as emphatically denying this. The thought of strife and all work in Salt Lake better than I to make a denial of those charges. For I have worked hard, much of the time with Senator Sutherland and other leaders of the Republican party. We endeavored in every possible way to effect a combination with which would be identified the best people of the city, who are seeking peace, regardless of sect or creed."

"But, in the language of the street, things got 'balled up' and it was not accomplished. I wish to deny the claims in an advertisement in the News tonight that the Republican party refused to fuse."

"You have the Republican ticket, a fusion ticket as well. And when we are talking about fusion, just look back a few years. It was by the aid of Republican votes that Judge Bascom, a Democrat, was elected mayor. It was by Republican votes that Mr. Clark was elected mayor, another Democrat. And it was by Republican votes that Richard P. Morris, a Democrat, was elected mayor. So that, when they tell you that the Republicans have refused to fuse, history does not bear them out. There is no question but that Mr. Murdoch will handle the affairs of Salt Lake in an honest, fair, conscientious manner. While he was in the council there was never a vote which he registered which was not for honesty and fairness. And there is no man in the council who has shown the ability of Mr. Murdoch to handle the affairs of the city."

Chairman Anderson introduced James D. Murdoch as "our next mayor," which was greeted with vociferous applause. Mr. Murdoch said he was not sure just what Axel Steele was talking about early in the evening, but it sounded as if he was saying, "We'll give the American party hell tomorrow." He told of the grafting in the waterworks committee on the incident regarding the carload of lead which was in the Salt Lake yards before the regulation for it came to the council, and of the water meter steal, which he spiked while in the council.

"My idea of city government," continued Mr. Murdoch, "is and always has been that it should be conducted as nearly as possible in the same lines that a successful business man would conduct his private business. I have always held that a successful business man would not be a man who could be trusted with the running of a city government, and I still believe it. But there are men in the council who are grafters of the first water, and they are there now. They have their own interests to look after, and they will try to bring about the very best results for the next two years. And if any of these smart work men while I am mayor I will call out quick."

Senator Sutherland spoke for only a short time. He declared the state movements of the American party leaders that the city had been pushed forward through their efforts. He pointed to the building of the Salt Lake route, the opening of the mines in Bingham more than 20 years before, the building of smelters at Garfield, Bingham Junction and Midvale, and he declared that the American party would claim that these were started through their being in power. He said, rather, that these had come and that in bringing thousands to the city they had pushed the city forward. He declared Salt Lake would grow, not depend on the American party, but in spite of it.

Senator Sutherland talked along the same line as Governor Spry for peace and harmony in Utah, and declared that the only way to get peace was to get rid of the American party. "Don't vote the Democratic ticket, for it cannot win," the American party said and not the Republican party. "The public ticket it can and should win," he declared.

"The rally closed with the singing of 'America' and then the floor was cleared for dancing."

REPUBLICANS ARE SANGUINE

Ben P. Lloyd of the Democrats, with an optimism born of youth and inexperience in the political game, claims everything in sight and promises to reverse the tide of the party unless when the votes are counted.

The Republicans are ready for the battle of the business and the city. The party is divided into four districts, with the necessary number of workers for each district chairman and carriages provided, as well as checkers and canvassers. The Democrats are also well prepared, and they will make a desperate effort to vote 30 to 60,000 against the Republicans in the city. SMILE FOR HEALTH. SAYS STOMACH MAN.

Cheerfulness First Station on Road to Success, Creed of Peptic Expert.

MIND SICK, BODY SICK EXPLAINS NEW HEALTH THEORIES WHICH MADE GOTHAM GASP.

COOPERISM. Happiness is the birthright and the duty of every man and woman. We must take hard knocks with a laugh in order to conquer them. Happiness is the birthright and the duty of every man and woman. We must take hard knocks with a laugh in order to conquer them.

Chronic constipation often causes chronic rheumatism, and that means a "grinch."

"Cheerfulness is the first station on the road to success in business life or social affairs," said the Cooper "stomach man," as he is known in the city. He is the man who stirred New York by his odd expressions on health matters. He came to Salt Lake from San Francisco, where, he says, he met 100,000 persons during a sixteen weeks' stay. His original method of discussion of topics of wide interest made him the subject of much comment in all of the San Francisco daily papers.

Continuing his interview, the "stomach man" crisply expounded his opinion as follows: "Happiness is the birthright and duty of every man and woman. Not only does it pay greater dividends than any other investment, but it is absolutely necessary in our dealings with other people in order to perform our duty. It is the only way to win the respect of the world and to win new friends. We must take hard knocks with a laugh in order to conquer them. We must meet the petty vexations of social affairs and the annoyances of life with a good humor. We are defaulting in the debt we owe our Creator."

Health hinges directly on our mental attitude. Bad temper, wrong thoughts, jealousy, envy or too much self-pity result in a disordered liver, bad blood, headaches and nervous irritability. We become soured toward the world, face it with a glum gaze—and the world in the persons of our friends and associates, is sure to return the sour looks, ugly glare for ugly glare—with a little advice to the effect: "In just the same degree this rule works both ways. If our physical bodies are in a state of mental reaction is sure to follow."

Overeating and too little outdoor exercise is the curse of our modern civilization. We stuff our bodies with all the food we can eat, with no regard to the demand to be put on the digestive machinery gets clogged and the system is out of order. Diseases follow. A bad liver means a bad temper. A brace of bumpy kidneys means a gloomy outlook on everything. Impure blood causes headaches, wrecks our mental peace and peace of mind. Goodbye to that droopy, tired, nervous, 'all run down' feeling, which is the curse of our modern civilization. The Cooper "stomach man" says Salt Lake City I will take advantage of the opportunity to meet the people and to discuss with them more to say about this later, however."

Educate the stomach just the same as one would educate the mind. Just as one would teach the mind to digest its thoughts properly, and you can do good by that droopy, tired, nervous, 'all run down' feeling, which is the curse of our modern civilization.
